

Amazing Grace INTERNATIONAL Vietnam Update April, 2026

Mike's Notes

I will use this issue to introduce more of our children. One of them is Vo Can Khang (first name Khang). You can see him in the group picture on our masthead above and individually below. When I was in Vietnam at the end of 2024 we bought bicycles for seven young people and Khang was one of the recipients. I'm not sure there is a better more practical gift for a child in Vietnam and both Steve and I make it a point to buy several while we are there. Mrs. Eight picks the students each time.

Steve Hawley will make another trip to Vietnam in the month of July this year. My next trip was supposed to be in December but has been pushed to March of 2027.

I've mentioned before that I teach a Bible class via Zoom each Sunday morning (Saturday evening at 9 central time here in the U.S.). I've been doing this since 2014 and we have covered lots of territory. The classes are mostly textual and we have covered every kind of literature in the New Testament except for Revelation, and every kind of literature in the Old Testament except for prophecy. We are currently studying Ecclesiastes and that has been an eye-opening experience. In the first place, Ecclesiastes can be a tough book. How would you explain the exhortation "Be not overly righteous" (7:16)? Now imagine having

TOM'S KIDS

Tom Tune first went to Vietnam in 2005 to help Partners In Progress build a medical mission ship. While there, he established two churches and sent nearly a dozen young-people either to University or Bible college. He also began a program to help underprivileged children to go to school. Amazing Grace International, with your help, serves to continue the work he began there.

Steve Hawley, one of our board members, wrote the following about Dad the day after he died in 2013. I think it captures Dad well: "Tom Tune died yesterday. Many people talk about living; Tom lived. He did things and went places most of us only imagine. He dreamed dreams that came true and had visions which have come to pass. He changed lives on multiple continents and the ripples started by his wake could cover the oceans. Tom was unlike any missionary I've ever met but that's a limiting statement. Tom Tune was unlike any person I've ever met."

Thirteen years have now passed since Dad died and today, some of those little children are now attending University and contributing to the growth of the Kingdom of God.

Thank you for your support.

to explain it in Vietnamese? We work from a list of discussion questions that I give them in advance and the students have done a superb job. It's exciting to see them work through the text. And, I've added a degree of difficulty. I'm asking those who are willing to give their answers in both Vietnamese and English. Every couple of weeks, we add a student who is willing to give that a go. They are doing well!

We are now (with your support) helping a hundred students to go to school. We could not do this without you and I appreciate your continued support and generosity. Many of you have helped with this work since before Dad died and I cannot thank you enough.

It may be you would like to know more about these students. Pick one and ask your questions. I'll ask them to respond. In our next issue I hope to introduce you to our University students.

Thanks again
Mike
